CTA Rail Line Overviews

Chicago
Blue Line Overview
Blue Line

The Blue Line begins at O’Hare International Airport at the far northwest end of the city. After traveling through the Northwest Side, the Blue Line then makes its way through the Loop via the subway and across the West Side to its southwest end at Forest Park. It is one of the CTA’s busiest rail lines and one of the two lines to run 24/7.
Blue Line

The Blue Line serves as a vital link to various destinations ranging from O’Hare International Airport, Rosemont Convention Center, Allstate Arena and the James R. Thompson Center.

The Loop

The Loop is Chicago’s Major Business Center. Most specifically, the Loop refers to an area bounded by the CTA ‘L’ tracks. In general use it refers to the core of central business district, which is the second largest in the United States after Midtown Manhattan.
The Loop

Skyscrapers dominate Loop architecture, which include the Chicago Board of Trade, Willis Tower, and the Lyric Opera House. This area also offers numerous shopping opportunities, such as the historic State Street Shopping District. Numerous government buildings are also within the Loop, including City Hall, the James R. Thompson Center and multiple federal buildings.

Red Line Overview
Red Line

The Red Line runs from Howard Street to 95th Street and the Dan Ryan Expressway on the South Side. On the North Side, the Red Line runs through neighborhoods such as Lincoln Park and Lakeview. This line runs as a subway between North/Clybourn and Roosevelt and above ground and parallel to the Dan Ryan Expressway on its South Side route.

Monthly Ridership: 4,798,798
Red Line

Since the Red Line runs from one end of the city to the other, it is often referred to as the “backbone” of the CTA; and therefore, it serves a wide range of riders—locals, tourists, white collar workers, blue collar workers, sports fans and students.

Yellow Line Overview
Yellow Line

The CTA’s Yellow Line, begins at the Howard station and runs west and north to Skokie. With only two stations along the line, trains make the short five mile trip in virtually no time at all. In many ways, the Yellow Line more closely resembles a light rail operation rather than rapid transit.

Monthly Ridership: 118,269
Skokie is an upscale North Shore suburban community with many cultural and family attractions, as well as a thriving downtown shopping district.
